MY WORLD PASSPORT

Learning about other cultures and traditions is a great way to help children to get to understand the world better, enhance effective communication, and create opportunities to meet new people. Explore one (safe!) activity and post pictures using #grow2gether.

Cultures can exist at the global, national, regional, city, neighborhood, subculture and super culture levels. Such cultures are not mutually exclusive but overlap in countless ways. World cultures and traditions are a set of shared experiences, norms, symbols and ideas that unite people at the global level.

Invite your child to make a homemade passport. As your child learns something about another culture, draw a picture in the passport and see how many pages you can fill throughout the year. It is just that simple, but engaging, interactive and FUN!

Learning on the Go!

- At a restaurant? At the park? In your neighborhood? Every time you meet someone that has the same culture you learned about in your world passport, go and meet them! Tell them what you learned about them! Ask them questions to learn more about them and their culture.

Share with us! We would love to see how you did this activity. Use the hashtag #grow2gether so we can find it!
